

When telemarketers call me at home I feel my privacy is being violated. The home is a sacred place where you can escape the endless assault from the world of capitalism and money-making schemes, a place where you can take a breath and live in peace for a moment. Please protect the value of home to so many Americans. This is the first step in what could turn out to be an endless attempt for businesses to beat down your door. Let's not sacrifice that sacred space and try to protect it from people trying to make a buck.
